

Notes From Henry Clay High School

The announcement of the schedule for examinations January 18, 19 and 20, 1933, is that the semester is rapidly drawing to a close. On Wednesday, January 18, the class night program will be given by the mid-year graduating class. The class session will be delivered January 19 by Mr. William M. Sweeney at the Broadway Christian church. Commencement exercises will be held on January 19 at 8 p. m. in the Henry Clay High auditorium.

On Thursday, January 19, the 8A classes will entertain in honor of the senior class. The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of Evelyn Sloan, Mildred Arnall, Eugene Carr and Frances Smith, assisted by the 3A teachers, Misses Richardson, Foster, Williams and Kary.

Because of the large number of students who have expressed a desire to try out for the debating team, a debating club of 10 members has been organized. Mr. Henderson is sponsor for this group, which will aim to assist in arousing interest in public questions and to stimulate in the student body a genuine enthusiasm for clear thinking and effective public speaking.

At a recent meeting the following officers were elected: Elizabeth Claxton, president; Ann Lang, vice president; Mary Genovieve Townsend, secretary; and Franklin Wallace, treasurer. During a recent assembly period, the president, Elizabeth Claxton, expressed appreciation of the excellent results accomplished during the past seven years by Miss Ruth Mathews, the retiring sponsor.

The recent announcement that Mary Dantzer had been elected Beauty Queen at the University of Kentucky was enthusiastically received at Henry Clay High, where she was a member of the class of June 1932.

Miss Payne's botany classes enjoyed field trips last week to the plant of Swift and Company to study pasteurization methods. This project was carried out in connection with their study of Bacteria.

The second section visited the plant of Hughes and Company. At the conclusion of the trip each class went by motor bus to the greenhouses of Michler and Howard and Hoefler, where they saw the flowers grown for the Christmas season and studied methods of cultivation for various plants.

The members of Miss Karr's home room are interested in preparing a Christmas basket which will be sent to some one less fortunate than they. The committee in charge is composed of Marjorie Harbore, Mildred Arnall and Richard Runkin.

At the assembly period December 21 there will be presented a Christmas musical arranged by Miss Brown and conducted by Miss Thelma Fox. The program will be as follows: Christmas selection by the orchestra; processional, "Adeste Fideles" by a special chorus; Biblical reading by Dorothy Edwards; and Nancy Alverson; "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear." "While Shepherds Watched," by the Glee Club; "Joy to the World," by the chorus; "We Three Kings of the Orient Are" by James Thompson, Banker White and Harold Dutton; "Little Town of Bethlehem," by the Glee Club; "Luther's Cradle Song," a solo by Jennie Gillock; "Silent Night" by the chorus; recessional, "Adeste Fideles" by chorus.

The special chorus will include Mary Salles, Margaret Geddes, Margaret Gorman, Doris Gibson, Louise Rutherford, Madge Regan, Louise Vaglesworth, Jennie Gillock, David Salves, Jamie Thompson, Ed Allender, Morton Potter, Banker White, Roly Stephenson. The Glee Club of over sixty voices will assist the chorus.

The stage representing a medieval church will be arranged by Miss Katherine McGinnis, Miss Ethel Conington, and Ann Lang, Charles Adams, Billy Hubble, Ed Thomas. The lighting will be managed by Lawrence Bloom and James O'Brien.

The Girl Reserves gave a party at the Wellington Armory room Friday evening at 7:30 in honor of the football squad. The following toasts were given: Kick-off by Owen Osborne; Tackle by Professor Skinner; First Down by Ann Lang; Intercepted Pass by Dr. Hill; Two yards to go and two minutes to play by Russell Morgerson; Touchdown by Coach Haber. The toastmistress was Maxine Troxel.

The Home Economics Club met Thursday during home room period. The program was in charge of student members of the club. Arrangements were made for the care of a family Christmas, including a Christmas dinner, gifts and clothes. The program was as follows: Reading—Mildred Webb; Music—Dorothy Howard and Mary Salles; violin solo—Louise Slaton.

At the regular assembly period Wednesday morning Professor Skinner discussed the standards set up for members of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The Moore submitted to the student body resolutions offered by the student-teacher council concerning student conduct during the days preceding the Christmas holidays.

Miss Dorothy Edwards will entertain the Vergil class with a Christmas party at her home on Ransom avenue, on next Tuesday. The boys of the class will present a Roman play called "The Saturnalia."

Ed Thomas, Charles Adams and Billy Hubble, three members of the art department, have made original designs for large imitation stained glass windows which will be used as stage setting for the Christmas chapel program.

The 2A class in the home room of Miss McGinnis are sending a Christmas basket to one unfortunate family in town. Boyer Moore was appointed chairman of the committee in charge.

Reporters: Pauline Hargis and Alice Jacobs.

Christmas party next Wednesday afternoon.

The "Band Concert" given by the band under the direction of Mr. Howard Hall was enjoyed by all. An attractive feature of the concert was the "tap dance" by Marjorie Hall.

The operetta "The Kidnapping of Santa Claus" will be given at the high school auditorium Wednesday December 21 at 7:30 p. m. This promises to be one of the most attractive activities of the season. Come and help rescue Santa. No admission.

The following patrons visited us this week: Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Paritz, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Burrier, Mrs. Banz, Mr. Lindberg, Miss Jessie Yancey, Mr. Allen.

Miss Lowry is able to be back after an illness of "flu." Miss Cundiff, Mrs. Parks and Mrs. Sullivan are ill with the "flu." Miss Chase, Miss Hickey and Mrs. Patterson are substituting for them.

The following new pupils were added to our enrollment this week: Lester Gross from this county; Edward O'Donnell from Cincinnati, and

Morton Junior High School Notes

With last Friday night Morton's basketball season at home formally opened; season tickets went on sale Monday; a great cornucopia of the season, was seen by all as they entered the first floor corridor, Thursday morning; Friday afternoon a pep meeting was held which was attended by all ticket holders and probable season "fans."

When Friday night came, there came the Clark County High team and a great game followed. Preceding this first game at home, Morton had played Clark County High in Winchester on December the ninth and Trapp another Clark county school, in Winchester on December the second and had won both games. The starting line-up for Morton was: forwards, Sherry Blumer, Simon Levy; center, Carl Hamilton; guards, Harry Daniel, John Boles. The next game to be played and the last, one before the holidays will be the one with University High B squad Monday night. Played on the Morton floor by two squads almost evenly matched, it should be a very interesting game.

And by Monday morning all the material that is to make up the best semi-annual number of the Junior Mortonian that has yet appeared will be with the printers, Hurst and Byars. The Junior Mortonian staff is an excellent one: Willis Stewart, editor-in-chief; Martha Riley, assistant editor; Danny Terrell and Harry Daniel, joke editors; Marguerite Stilwell, advertising manager; Jean King, assistant advertising manager; G. E. Burke, business manager; Davies Thompson, assistant business manager.

Preparations for the commencement exercises of the nineteenth of January at ten-thirty o'clock are near completion. The address to the class will be given by Dr. R. V. Bennett, president of Kentucky Wesleyan College at Winchester. The Very Rev. Christopher E. Spurling, dean of Christ Church Cathedral, Lexington, will offer the opening prayer and pronounce the benediction. The dismission of the class to the senior school will be made by Dr. H. H. Hill, superintendent of schools.

The 8B and 8A French classes have been giving special emphasis during the past few weeks to the province of Normandy. Attractive booklets have been made by each pupil.

Martin Dickerson, 8A, has drawn and painted a large animated map of Normandy for display on the bulletin board and Owen McMillen has made for the class an excellent copy of a part of the famous Bayeux tapestry.

The play, "The Trial of Cornelia Pickens," given by the Parent-Teacher Association was a big success. In fact it was so well received that the reproduction of it later in the year is being considered. The proceeds of the play which are intended for the welfare fund of the school will greatly augment that fund. Mrs. Charles Hopkins, director of the play, and Mrs. Ware, president of the association, were strongly supported by a really fine cast of 23 members.

The Drama Club planned its last program of the year Friday under the direction of Jean Stamper. She presented a number of entertaining young actors and speakers who attempted to entertain with their version of an old-fashioned school entertainment. The club was particularly happy to have the Art Club as guests for this meeting.

A 7B class instructed by Miss Ransdell, invited the 7B-4 class to attend their character guidance program Tuesday. The subject for discussion was "Kindness" and several members of the class made most helpful contributions to the discussion. Also Peck presided. June Bryant, Mildred Frances Fowell, Joseph Stallard and Theresa Jacobs gave talks illustrating the courtesy of kindness. The visiting group appreciated the thoughtful attentions shown them by their next door neighbors.
