THE LAY OF THE LAST GOLFER.

Come Winter, come, and free me from the thrall
Of Golf! Bestrew the laurel links with snow,
For they that are condemned to chase the ball
Are hopeless as the Person with the Hoe.

Midsummer form is gone, nor all my play
Can wit it back to cancel half a stroke;
The driver's off, the brassie's had its day,
The maulie's blown, my putting is a joke.

And yet I chase the ball around the links
(He needs must whom the golfing devil drives)
Hoping I may—but knowing well I'll
Pull off a brilliant string of fours and fives.

Sound, Winter, then "the trumpets of the sky,"
Lock up the links and throw away the key!
Else, like a self-doomed Sisyphus must I
Pursue this foolish game from tee to tee.

—Chicago Tribune.

CALENDAR.

Mrs. T. D. Cassidy will entertain today with a luncheon at her home on East Main Street.

Today at 1:30 p. m. the annual luncheon of the State University Alumnae will be given at the Phoenix Hotel. It has been a custom in former years to have this luncheon at the New Year season, but this was changed because there are so many visitors in Lexington for the Thanksgiving football game. All who wish to attend the luncheon will leave their names with Miss Mary E. Clarke at 117 Woodland Avenue, chairman of the luncheon committee, and the price of plates will be received at the Misses Caden's store.

The women of the Alumnae Association have organized a club known as Alumnae Club of State University, and a representative was sent to the State Convention at Mammoth Cave, where the State Federation of Women's Clubs, Thomas Jefferson Smith, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will be the guest of honor at the Alumnae luncheon.

This evening the dedication of the Lincoln School will be an event of importance. Dr. Sophronisa Breckinridge, of Chicago, will be one of the speakers in the program arranged and the picture of Abraham Lincoln to be shown. The music of an orchestra and exercises by the children will add to the entertainment. The people are all invited to this dedication.

Race-Caston.
The many friends of Miss Elizabeth Rae will learn with agreeable surprise of her recent marriage to Mr. Luther M. Claxton, of Boston, Mass. Miss Rae was a very talented and accomplished musician. She was a member of the Methodist church in Craxton, until her marriage in May, Mr. and Mrs. Claxton are in the South at present but will return about December 1 and be with Mrs. Claxton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rae, on Pemberton Avenue.

Family Reunion and Dinner at Senator Blackburn's.
There was a family reunion of the Blackburn family at Spring Station, when Senator and Mrs. J. C. Blackburn gave a Thanksgiving dinner, at which the guests included members of the family from Frankfort, Memphis, Tenn. Those present were: Captain James Blackburn, of Spring Station; Major and Mrs. James Blackburn, of Frankfort; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wallace, of Memphis, Tenn.

Wheeler-Noland.
A wedding which was a surprise to their many friends was that of Miss Helen Marie Wheeler to Mr. William Noland, which took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Siles, 597 East High Street.

The Ideal Gift Umbrella

Even the old fashioned umbrella makes a most desirable Christmas gift. But the newer, finer kind of umbrella—the Hull with its detachable and interchangeable handle, comes close to the ideal for Christmas giving.

With all the characteristics of the finest and handsomest umbrella you ever bought, you secure in the Hull features which no other umbrella of any type can furnish you. The detachable handle of the Hull umbrella is not only the pioneer invention of its kind, but the one successful development of the detachable and interchangeable idea.

When you present a Hull umbrella you enable the recipient who becomes attached to the handle, to secure a new umbrella by simply having some Hull dealer attach a new cover to the old handle. This at the cost of covering an ordinary umbrella.

Be sure to come here and get a Hull. Prices range from $1.00 to $15.

received, assisted by her daughter, Miss Bertha Elkin.
The bridal colors were green and white. The attendants, Miss Elkin and Mr. Mason Noland, the bridegroom's brother, and the bride and bridegroom entered together and stopped before the waiting minister, Rev. Alvin Willis, for the impressive ceremony.

Thanksgiving Dinner.
Mrs. W. M. Watson entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner for the following guests: Sergeant S. J. Candill, of Canal City, Ky., formerly of West Point Military Academy; Mrs. H. J. Peirman and Mrs. J. H. Curry, of Lexington; Mrs. T. Sebastian, of Bloomington; Mrs. Francis Tankersley, of Newberry, South Carolina, and Mr. Thomas Crutcher, of Lancaster, Ky. Among the other guests who were present for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. DeLoach and Bethel Lipps and Mr. Wilbur E. Lipps, of Mt. Sterling. An elaborate menu was served, and after dinner music was given by Mr. Lipps and Miss Beulah Lipps. Mr. Lipps playing the violin and Miss Lipps the piano. The evening was closed by the hostess' charming daughter, Miss Williana Watson.

Quiet Marriage.
Cupid was a busy young man Thanksgiving Day and sprung a surprise on the inhabitants of Bourbon County by bringing Mr. Paul C. Hahn and Miss Kathrine Peterson, both of Ruddle's Mill, Bourbon County, to the office of Squire Charles F. Dodd, where they were united in the bonds of matrimony. The bride and groom thought they would spring a surprise on their friends by introducing the knot to Lexington and was married. The groom notified a friend in this city, who made all the arrangements, but when the appointed time came the couple did not turn up, having missed their car in Paris. However, an hour later they arrived, but found no one to meet them. Knowing that the county clerk's office was closed for the day, Mr. Hahn set out to look for his friend, who introduced him to Squire Dodd. The squire, unwilling to see a plan like this go for nothing, got busy and found Deputy County Clerk Faust Foushee, who issued the license. The party then went to the office of Squire Dodd, in the courthouse, where they were married, after which they went happily on their way to Louisville, where they will spend a few days before returning to their home in Paris, where they will make their home.
