HENRY CLAY AND PARIS WIN DISTRICT CONTESTS

Miss Elizabeth Claxton Takes Two Firsts for Lexington School

Henry Clay High school and Paris High school made a clean sweep of the four Eleventh district interscholastic contests conducted at Georgetown yesterday afternoon, each school winning two of the events.

Miss Elizabeth Claxton, of Henry Clay, won the right to represent the district in both the state oratorical and discussion contests, to be conducted at the University of Kentucky in April. Miss Claxton makes her home with her grandmother, Mrs. James Rae, at 136 East Maxwell street.

In the extemperaneous speaking contest Miss Lillian Weber, of the Paris High school, was declared the winner, while Miss Sarah Gaitskill, also of the Paris school, was winner of the oral interpretation contest yesterday.

Schools represented at Georgetown were: Wilmore High, Georgetown, Nicholasville, Paris, Mt. Sterling, Frankfort, Midway, Henry Clay, Lawrenceburg, Renaker, Sayre College, Picadome, Bryan Station, Berry and Asbury High of Wilmore.

VIEWS CONFLICT

Court Action Likely on Sale of Beer in State

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 30 (AP)—Conflicting interpretations of Kentucky's prohibition enforcement act made it appear certain today that court action will be instituted to determine whether 3.2 beer legalized by congress may be manufactured and sold in this state.

Attorney General Bailey P. Wootton has ruled that "in event the beer is held constitutional, nothing now in the Kentucky statutes would prevent or restrict the regulation or sale of 3.2 per cent beer."

Over in western Kentucky, however, Commonwealth's Attorney Flavious B. Martin, of Mayfield, announced that he will prosecute any persons who attempt to sell 3.2 beer in his district composed of Graves, Hickman, Fulton, Ballard and Carlisle counties. At the same time plans for the manufacture and sale of the new brew proceeded in other parts of the state and the state tax commission took steps to levy the 10 cents a barrel tax and license taxes on beer enacted before prohibition and still on the statute books.

In Frankfort, one hotel has set up a bar that was in use before prohibition and several restaurants have indicated they will have 3.2 beer for sale after midnight April 6.

BIKE REPLACES CAR

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — "I'm not doing this as a protest against the 35 per cent salary cut," Prof. Richard M. Page of the University of New Mexico declared as he pedaled a bicycle down the street. "It's wholly a matter of economy with me. I've put my car in the garage."

LEGION POST ENDORSES ROOSEVELT'S PROGRAM

Local Legionnaires, at Special Meeting, Pledge Support to President

Man o' War Post, American Legion, in a special meeting at Jackson hall last night, adopted a resolution pledging its support to President Roosevelt and endorsing the pledge of the national commander of the American Legion, Louis A. Johnson, made several weeks ago upholding the President's stand in the economy bill.

T. H. Hayden, Jr., of Louisville, department adjutant of the American Legion, told the gathering of 800 Legionnaires that he was confident that the President would not unload on the states and communities charges that should be cared for by the federal government.

Mr. Hayden was the principal speaker at the meeting, which was presided over by Vice Commander T. J. Ready, Jr., in the absence of Commander James M. Templin, who was out of the city.

It was announced at the meeting that the local post will present a minstrel show at the Ben Ali theater April 20, 21 and 22 in conjunction with the regular picture program.

CINCINNATI TO DEDICATE RAIL TERMINAL TODAY

CINCINNATI, March 30 (AP)—Cincinnati Friday will dedicate its new $41,000,000 union railroad terminal, described as the most modern in the world.

More than 50,000 visitors from many parts of the country are expected here to see Harry A. Worcester, vice president of the New York Central Lines, formally present the gold key of the new station to Mayor Russell Wilson.

Governor White, of Ohio, and former Gov. John J. Cornwell of West Virginia, now chief counsel of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, will speak at a civic dinner in the evening.

Executives of the country's leading railroads and officials of numerous states will be at the dedication, which will mark the end of construction work begun five years ago.

Railroads were not to have begun operating out of the terminal until April 2, but the Ohio river flood, which put nearly a foot of water in the old Central Union depot, necessitated five of them moving to the new station March 19. They were the Big Four, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Louisville and Nashville and the Southern. The Pennsylvania and the Norfolk and Western will operate out of the terminal within a few days.

FOREST AT EXHIBIT

SAN FRANCISCO — California will have one of the largest exhibits of any of the states at the Chicago World's Fair in 1933. With 8,000 feet of floor space at its disposal, the state exhibit will be in the setting of a redwood forest, with huge artificial redwood trees covered with redwood bark.

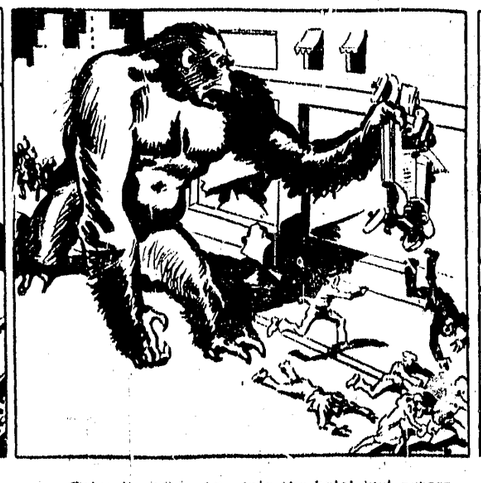
KING KONG

Giant of millions of years ago—As the ages roll by he is transplanted to America. Here is an artist's conception of his amazing career.

"King Kong Escapes"

To an amazed civilization is exhibited a cowed brute whose origin can only be guessed at and whose story has even the news reporters thrilled. Ann, golden and glittering in a beautiful Paris gown, reluctantly agrees to Denham's wish that she appear on the stage. Even though he is tightly chained, she is afraid to go near "King Kong."

Yes, "King Kong" knows fear, but it is for Ann. When photographers shove Ann about for pictures the Beast thinks his Beauty is in danger. Thunder rumbles from his throat. Chrome steel chains snap. Bars give away. Bedlam reigns in a great auditorium.



Driscoll rushes Ann into the hotel just across the street and into a room on an upper floor. "King Kong" gets out of the theater by breaking out a wall. He saw Ann disappear into the hotel and now he climbs up its walls as easily as a fly. He snatches one girl from her bed. Finding she is not Ann he drops her, shrieking, to the crowded street.

Ann now knows that nowhere will she be safe so long as "King Kong" lives. He has found her. He carries her to the roof of the building, but when Denham and Driscoll pursue him there, he returns to the street. What is to be Ann's fate?
