KRAHENBUEHL WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT VOTE

Calls On County Clerk to Ascertain Whether If Was Counted

NOTED FOR SOCIALIST County Auditor Making Out Claim Warrants—Court Notes

Godfrey Krahenbuehl, an employee of the Lexington Brewing Company, residing at 506 Columbia avenue, called at the office of the County Clerk yesterday afternoon and inquired before the County Board of Election Commissioners for the purpose of ascertaining whether his vote as a Socialist candidate in that precinct. The board did not make the additions yesterday but will probably do so today. The certificates of election to the local candidates and the certificates of voters reviewed by state and national will be made within a few days.

Making Out Claim Warrants.
County Auditor C. M. Matthews hopes to be able to have distributed this afternoon the warrants which have been made out for claims passed by the fiscal court at the meeting held last Saturday. The warrants were made up by Deputy County Clerk Faust Poushee and turned over to Auditor Matthews to receive the endorsement of Judge Scott. The warrants aggregate about $14,000. Most of them are for salaries for the month of October and for road work.

Interrogatories Filed.
In the case of James Gilroy as administrator of Catherine Mulich vs. Connor Mulich, etc., a number of interrogatories were filed in the office of the clerk of the Fayette circuit court yesterday. The interrogatories are to be propounded to James L. Canavan of Lawrence, Kansas; Mary Muloney, of Council Bluffs, Iowa; and Kate Mulich, of Potosi, Mo. Judge Scott yesterday asked that he be granted a divorce from his wife, Jamie Braxton, alleging more than five years separation as grounds for granting the divorce. The plaintiff says that he and the defendant were married in Fayette County in June, 1905, and that they lived together until the summer of 1907, when the defendant left him and went to live with another man. The plaintiff says the defendant abandoned him.

YEARLINGS OF HAYES PUT OVER FAST WORK

Trainer T. L. Pierce worked two yearlings owned by P. F. Hayes three miles in a 36 second race, carrying 110 pounds. The youngsters were a chestnut colt by McGee, out of Algie, by Hanover, and a bay filly by McGee out of Daisy. There have been a number of nice yearlings at the track that have been broken and trained, but none so short as well for the distance as have these two splendid youngsters.

HE REDUCED 57 LBS.

New Method of Flesh Reduction Proves Astonishingly Successful.

JAMESTOWN, Pa., Nov. 6.—Investigation has fully established that Hon. H. T. Stetler, of this city, has reduced his weight thirty-seven pounds in an incredibly short time by wearing a simple, invisible device, weighing less than an ounce. This, when worn, acts as an inflexible flesh reducer, dispensing entirely with dieting, medicines, and exercises. Many prominent men and women have adopted this means of reducing superfluous flesh, and it is stated the inventor, Prof. L. S. Burns, of No. 17 West Third-street, New York, is sending these outfits on free trial to all who write him.

Lower Board Adopts Measures Already Passed By Aldermen

ONE MEMBER ABSENT

Street Construction Matters Passed Upon By City Fathers

With all members present except President McClary, who attended the Fiske O'Hara performance at the Opera House, the lower board of the Council met last night in adjourned session from Tuesday night and passed several measures which had already been passed by the Board of Aldermen.

An ordinance appropriating $5,000 to the Board of Public Works to pay salaries for the month of November, passed upon suspension of the rules.

An ordinance authorizing the Mayor to advertise for the sale of bonds for $25,000 for the purpose of the construction of Bryan Avenue, from High Street to Euclid Avenue, also passed.

An ordinance accepting South Lexington Street, from West Street to Virginia Avenue, and appropriating its cost, $21,100.89, to abutting property owners, was approved.

The ordinance passed at the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen, giving permission to the Consumers' Ice and Cold Storage Company to construct a switch on West Street from High Street into their plant according to a contract indemnifying the city against liability for damages in case of accident, passed.

Receiving reports from St. Joseph's Hospital, the Associated Charities and the Board of Public Works, the Board of Councilmen met on Tuesday, November 6, at 7:30 p.m.

NO UNEVEN SPREADING AT CORNERS IF YOU USE LOW LIFT SPREADERS

While the average spreader distributes the manure evenly when operating down the field, yet when corners are reached there is danger of ground not being covered. Most Spreaders will cover the ground at corners when the wheel on the beater driving side of the machine is making the long turn but when the beater is standing still or holding the pivot, no power is furnished to the beater. If ground is all covered, it must be driven over a second time or else manured by spreading with a fork.

On the Low Lift a different kind of wheel is used in each wheel. This acts just as the pawls do in the wheels on a mower. They permit the axle to revolve, no matter which way the machine is being turned, as a result both the axon and beater mechanism are operated at a uniform speed. This insures even spreading. Just one of the many exclusive features of Low Lift Manure Spreaders. Send for free booklet giving full description.

EVERYBODY WANTING TO WRITE CORRECTLY

Herald Dictionary Is An Aid to All That Would Write

The saying that everybody either has, or is writing a play has become a truism at this psychological moment. It is even more generally true that practically everybody at some time in his life writes poetry or at least tries to do so. Many of these efforts are something wrong with the person who doesn't feel an impulse to burst into verse at some psychological moment. Yield to that impulse! There might be some great ideas under your hat if they were not correctly expressed and if only had a guide to correct expression.

That is just what The Herald proposes in the publication of Webster's Dictionary, Illustrated. Dr. Harry Thurston Peck, the editor, engaged the assistance of Charles J. Johnson, Ph. D., professor in Trinity College, who contributed an authoritative work upon prosody, giving anyone who writes poetry a ready guide to instructions upon correct expression in verse.

This is but one of the many features to be found between the covers of the limp leather lexicon, which is profusely illustrated in colors and monochrome.

This Dictionary is NOT published by the original publishers of Webster's Dictionary, or by their successors. It has been revised and brought up to the present date in accordance with the best authorities from the greatest living lexicographers, and published by the well-known Syndicate Publishing Co. of New York City.
